Shower Time

Water felt good. It was like it was a waterfall from the showerhead as the warm water fell down on Haru. He normally didn't take showers but he wasn't home. After a competition, Rin had invited him over. He had a great shower and it seemed like a shame not to use it. It chased away the chill the rain had left in his bones though. He was going to go to the ocean to swim today but the rain put an end to that. It was going to turn into a huge storm later too so he might end up staying the night with Rin. The thought of that didn't bug him honestly. They were rather close. He smiled gently just thinking of him. Rin was amazing. There wasn't a single thing that he didn't love about him. His hair, his laugh, his touch. Just thinking about it was making haru's heart beat faster. Ever since he had come back home, It was getting harder and harder to keep him out of his head. The smallest thing, like a shark tooth necklace or even just the glimpse of red hair brought his thoughts to Rin. Even now as he rested his head on the shower wall, his thoughts were on Rin. Well now was the best time. Trying to hide an erection wasn't something he wanted to do all night. As he started to daydream about Rin after turning the water's heat up a bit, His hand slipped down and slowly started to stroke. He was imaging that it was Rin. Only He was a bit rougher than he could be. Rin had a better grip and always kissed his shoulder. Right then Haru felt. His hand stopped and his shoulders slumped. He missed rin. He wanted to feel him behind him like always with his arms around him.

"Well don't stop." Haru jumped coming back into focus and soon looked behind him. Rin was there smiling and naked. It was very obvious that he had a need as well. He walked into the shower then and Haru followed the water down his body. Rin was Built. There wasn't a part of him that wasn't hard to the touch except maybe his ass. It did give slightly when grabbed.

"You going to finish your shower or am I doing this alone?" Haru looked back up into Rin's red eyes. He was tousling his hair to get it wet and Haru's erection started pounding.

"Depending on what you're asking to do aloneâ€¦." Rin chuckled then and slowly moved a bit closer.

"Aren't you boldâ€¦?" Haru smirked a bit and soon leaned closer and just kissed him. It was light and feathery on Rin's soft lips but he could tell that he had been eating something spicy for a snack. Some of it was still on his lips. Rin kissed back a bit harder. He had been thinking about Haru all day and Now this was his chance. He loved Haru. That much he knew. He loved everything about him. That stoic expression he had, The way his eyes lit up when he saw a fresh pool and even the fact that he couldn't stay away from water. Everything that made Haru who he was, Rin loved with all of his heart. Soon he had Haru's back flat against the wall as he kissed him over and over again. There was never getting enough of it. His hands rubbed Haru's uppers arms and slowly went lower until one found Haru's erection. He jumped slightly when Rin got a grip but soon Haru was moaning slightly as Rin pumped his hand up and down his length. Haru had to break away from the kiss to breathe so Rin moved to his neck. Long heavy kisses until he found the sweet spot and then he bit. He heard Haru gasp then from the pain but as Rin licked it and sucked it, that gasp turned back into moans and groans. He was trying to keep quiet. He always did. Rin smiled then and soon whispered in his ear.

"No one can hear usâ€¦. We're home aloneâ€¦"

"Just shut upâ€¦." Rin chuckled a bit then before gently biting his ear. Haru was slowly falling into bliss. This was what he wanted. He wanted Rin to touch him, to make him feel good. Only this wasn't going to be enough. He wanted Rin in him. Haru got enough control to get Rin's hand to stop and Look at him. He knew he was blushing but he couldn't help it. Only he couldn't form the words. His head was reeling. Only Rin understood. He kissed haru once more long and hard before turning him. Haru leaned his forehead on the wall and just listened. Rin was doing something but then he felt. He gasped when he first felt his tongue near his anus but then as a finger went in, Haru's breathing picked up. Rin was playing with his entrance with one hand while rubbing lube on himself with the other. He had snuck a tube in here in case this ever happened. He couldn't stop licking Haru though. There was just something about the feeling of Haru's skin on his tongue, he couldn't resist it.

"Rinâ€¦. Come onâ€¦.. Pleaseâ€¦." Haru's voice was shaky and yet had an edge to it. Rin knew it well. That edge was caused by lust. Haru wanted him. Rin smiled then and soon had his tip right at the edge.

"Alrightâ€¦. Ready?" Haru nodded and Rin Slid in. Haru grunted then from the force but as Rin slowly slid out and back in, Those grunts turned to moans. Rin had a good grip on Haru's slender hips and was going slow but Haru loved it. Just the feeling of Rin's erection inside of him and his hands on his hips made him ache more and more. Soon he was stroking himself again as Rin slowly sped up. Rin was enjoying himself as well. Haru was tight around him and squeezed on his manhood when he went in. Every squeeze brought him more and more pleasure than the last. Soon they were both going faster than ever and their moans and groans mixed. The shower had stayed warm and it just made them both hotter than ever. The steam was almost choking them and yet it hid them from any wandering eyes that could appear. It made this feel more intimate and they felt closer than ever. All good things have to end though.

"R-rinâ€¦.. Iâ€¦." Rin opened an eye then. Haru had the best face when he came. His eyes closed tightly and his mouth open as his chest rose and fell with each thrust. Soon He leaned back on Rin as he backpedaled and soon Twisted his head to kiss him as he felt his end was near. Rin was close as well and right as Haru's muscles gave a final squeeze as haru moaned loudly, Rin felt himself come inside of Haru Hard and fast. Haru's cum hit the wall in front of him and slid down as the rest fell short into the floor to be washed away. Rin's spilled out as he pulled out of Haru and soon was washed away as well. His legs were weak and he was still panting. Haru looked back then and smiled gently. Rin smiled back and soon pulled him close. Haru came to him without a question and kissed him deeply as he got his arms around Rin's neck. Rin got his arms around Haru's waist as he kissed back smiling. Only then they both yelped slightly as the once warm water suddenly went ice cold. Rin turned it off as quickly as he could and soon looked back at Haru. He had goosebumps from the water already. Rin laughed a bit and soon reached out and wrapped Haru in a towel. Haru smiled a bit then.

"Mind if I stay the night?"

"Not at all." He nodded then and soon got rin in the towel as well.

"Let's try this again one dayâ€¦."

"You liked it?" Haru nodded and Rin smiled.

"Yeah alrightâ€¦ Now come onâ€¦ The mackerel isn't going to fix itself." He nodded and soon they got out. Only as Haru got dressed, Rin made a note to remember to get a new tube of lube for in there. He had a feeling that might happen a bit more now.
